

My profile website

Short:

This website collects my personal info that people who want to learn about me (for this assignment, I did not post my real info because it will be uploaded to the Internet). The second page introduces my skills which could help employers, maybe, judging whether I have the ability they ask for.

Long:

My profile website could be regarded as a personal CV. It not only includes my detailed information, but my education level as well as my skill. On the first hand, people who interest me could learn more about me relying on this website. Besides, in terms of a CV, if an employer was attracted by my certain skill, it may bring other chance. For this website, I want to make it different from others; an outstanding website could express the owners' personality as well as his or her ability.

Personas:

1. Potential friend. They may learn about me from this website.
2. People who interested in web design. Even if this WebDesign still have problems to fix, however, it may arouse the interest of others.
3. Employers.

Comps :

becketto JJ Ying, just another UI Designer